Note: Medicines priced below the PBS co-payment are not subsidised by the government, and pharmacies have discretion over the retail price of these medicines. In some cases, your pharmacy may offer these items as a non-PBS subsidised medicine, which may reduce the price further. As such, prices may vary depending on where you fill your prescription

When offered a non-PBS price, you should discuss with the pharmacist if this will have an effect on your entitlement to the PBS Safety Net

You can speak with your pharmacist about the cost of your prescription and shop around to get the best price.
